

How can we meet?

You can come to us, or we can meet you at a convenient location near your home.

We can also do online or phone meetings.

Central Office

149 Currie Street, Adelaide,
South Australia, 5000

Phone

(08) 8340 4450

Email

info@advocacyfordisability.org.au

FREE
advocacy support for submissions to the Disability Royal Commission

Phone (08) 8340 4450

Free Call 1800 856 464

www.advocacyfordisability.org.au

@advocacyfordisability

@adaidisability
royalcommissionadvocacy

What is the Disability Royal Commission?

A public inquiry that investigates incidents of violence, abuse, neglect and exploitation of people with disability.

It is independent from government.

It will make recommendations about what should change.

Who can write a submission?

- › Someone with disability.
- › Someone with a relationship to another person with disability.

Why should I write a submission?

- › You can tell your story in your words.
- › You can make suggestions for how things could be done better.

What can ADAI do for me?

Advocacy for Disability Access and Inclusion (ADAI) provides free support services to people wanting to make a submission.

We can give you information about the Disability Royal Commission.

We can help you understand what the Disability Royal Commission wants and how you can be involved...

We can give you examples of who can make a submission and what one looks like...

We can help you tell your story in a way that works for you.

Get in contact

